I started 3d resin printing in 2020. I printed a few Napoleonic figures with my printer and was blown away with the detail and found it was such a joy to paint them, I wanted to be able to share this with others.

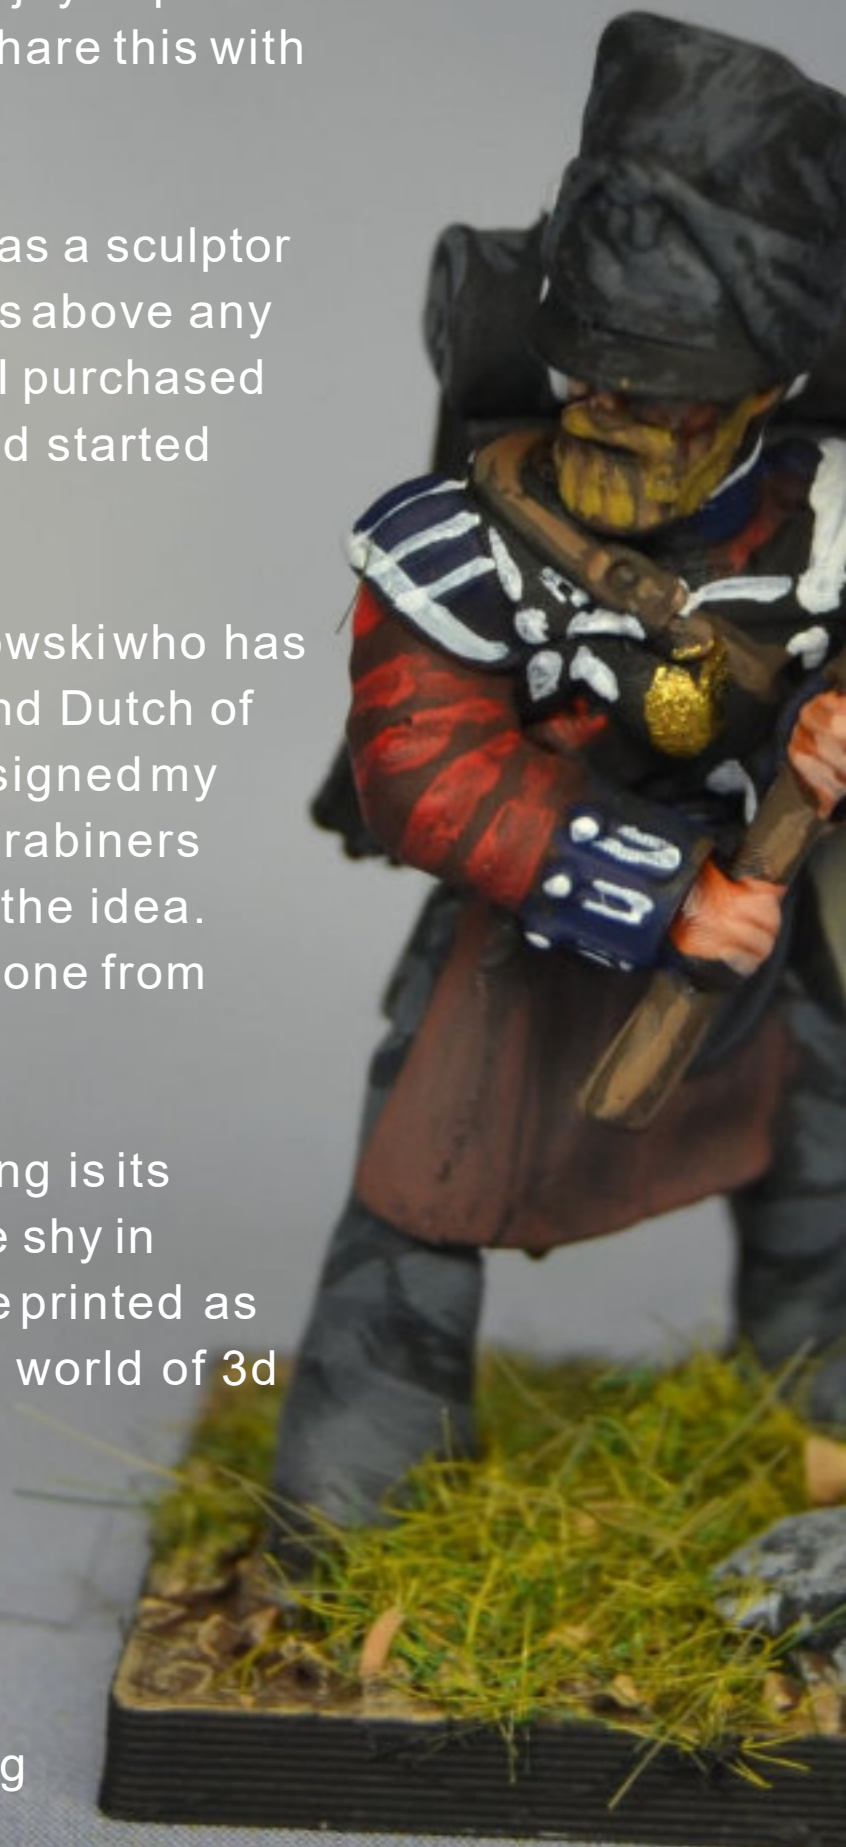

I saw Napoleonic STL files and as a sculptor David was head and shoulders above any other files I had seen. In 2021 I purchased my first commercial licence and started selling 3d printed figures.

Later discovering Rafal Polkowski who has designed some awesome Grand Dutch of Warsaw figures. In 2022 I designed my first set of Waterloo Dutch Carabiniers after a few people suggested the idea. From there the business has gone from strength to strength.

The best thing about 3d printing is its flexibility and please do not be shy in asking me what you would like printed as most things are possible in the world of 3d printing.

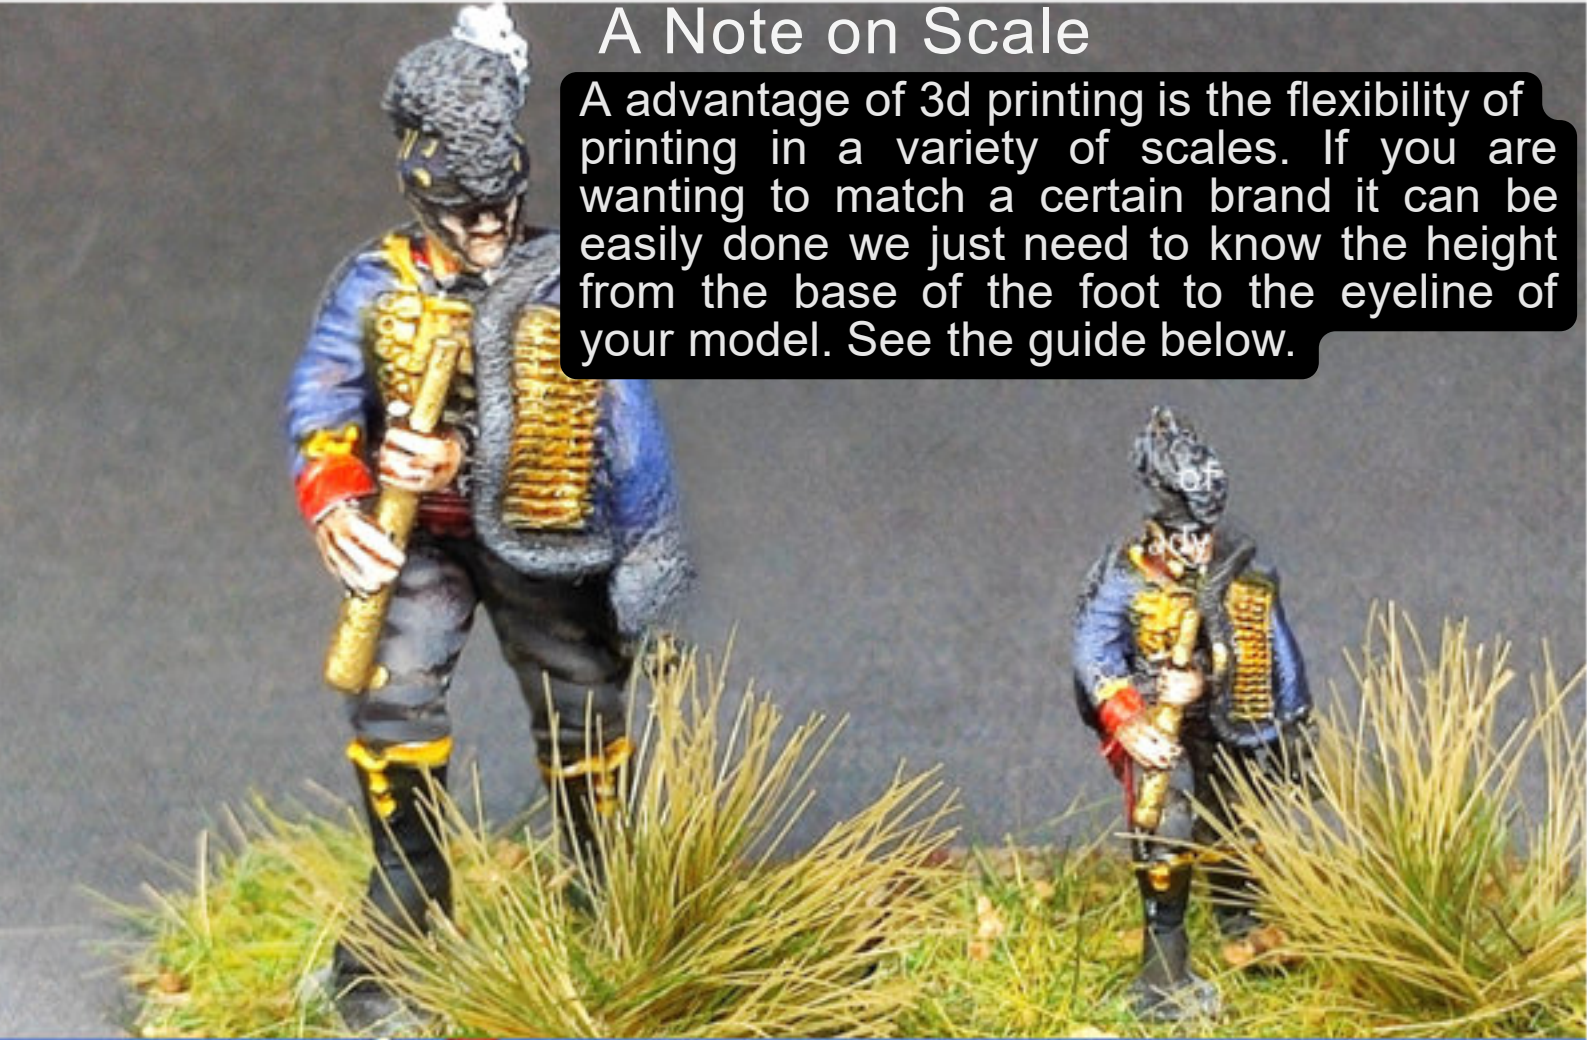

Regards
Kane

A Note on Scale

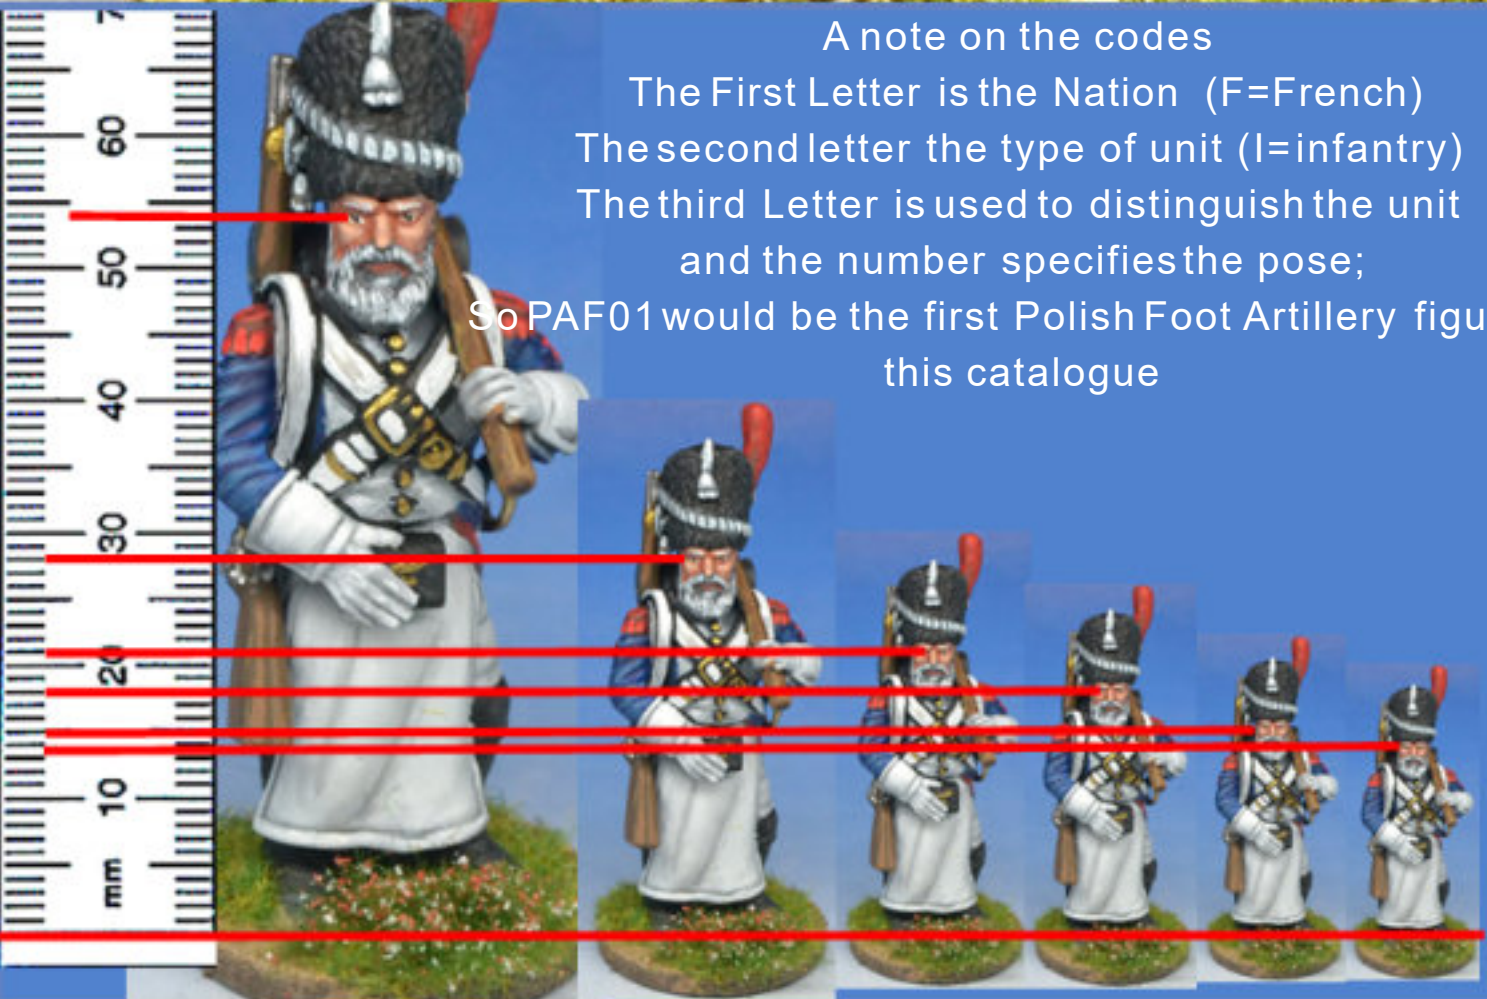

A advantage of 3d printing is the flexibility of printing in a variety of scales. If you are wanting to match a certain brand it can be easily done we just need to know the height from the base of the foot to the eyeline of your model. See the guide below.

A note on the codes

The First Letter is the Nation (F=French)
The second letter the type of unit (I=infantry)
The third Letter is used to distinguish the unit and the number specifies the pose;

So PAF01 would be the first Polish Foot Artillery figure in this catalogue

Size we print unless specified	1/32 52-56mm 54mm	28mm 1/64 28mm	1/72 (20-22mm) 21mm	HO (18mm) 18mm	15mm Epic (1/100) 13.5mm 15mm 13.5mm

SAXON
GRENADIER
1806

A row of six identical miniature soldiers, likely from a wargaming set. They are dressed in Napoleonic-era uniforms, featuring green jackets with red facings, grey trousers, and black bicorne hats with red plumes. Each soldier is holding a long rifle and standing on a small, circular green base.

A series of six photographs showing a miniature soldier from different angles: front, three-quarter front, side, three-quarter back, back, and three-quarter back. The soldier is wearing a green tunic, grey breeches, and a black bicorne hat. He has a brown leather backpack and is holding a red rifle.

A series of six views of a 19th-century soldier in a green uniform, showing the back and side profiles. The soldier is wearing a green tunic with red trim on the collar and cuffs, light-colored breeches, and a green bicorne hat. He is carrying a rifle and a satchel. The views show the soldier from the back, slightly to the left, straight back, slightly to the right, and from the side.
